

THE WAR CRY

OFFICIAL GAZETTE OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

International Headquarters:
61 Queen Victoria St., London, E.C.

AND

William Booth, Founder.

Canada East Headquarters:
James and Albert Streets, Toronto,

4th Year. No. 41.

Bramwell Booth, General.

TORONTO, JULY 7, 1917.

W. J. Richards, Commissioner.

Price Two Cents

CANADA IS YOUNG AND FAIR!

The fiftieth anniversary of Confederation is an excellent occasion for every citizen of our great country to ask a personal question: "Am I worthy of the beautiful and fruitful land in which God has placed me?" Fifty years is but a day in the life of a nation; Canada is indeed still young. Her future is in the hands of her people. If the full promise of her present "blossom" is to be realized, God must have proper place in her life and her policies must be ordered on the principle that true prosperity is founded on righteousness.

(See Page 4)

O CANADA!

O Canada! Our father's land of old,
Thy soil is covered with leaves of red and gold.

Beneath the shade of the Holy Cross

The children often sing:

No stains the glorious annals gloss,

Since value shrills their heart,

Almighty God,

On Thee we call,

Defend our rights, forefend this nation's thrall.

Aiar and thron command our sacred love,

And mankind to us shall ever brothers prove.

O King of kings, with Thy mighty hand,

All our sons do Thou inspire,

May no craven terror of life or death

E'er damp the patriot's fire.

Our mighty call,

Loudly shall ring,

As in the days of old, "For Christ and the King!"

THE SEARCHLIGHT

Lord, who shall abide in Thy tabernacle? Who shall dwell in Thy holy hill?

He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.

HOW TO BE SAVED

Firmly face the fact of your sin; it gets worse, and unless something is done to stop it you will be lost before long. Marry at last, and only foul horrors as its record.

Cast yourself upon God's mercy; confess your wrongs against His laws; plead for pardon in the name of Jesus, who has said you shall ask what you will and it shall be given you.

A DRUNKEN FATHER

In our Young People's Meeting recently a Soldier related a very pitiful incident that came under his notice. He was visiting a town, and calling at a house noticed a poor crippled boy with his legs twisted terribly. He found out enquiry that the child was eight years old, and that he had been crippled for years. He asked his mother, the cause, but she did not care to tell him in the child's presence. She, however, followed him to the door and told him a sad story.

The boy's father had come home drunk, and seeing his child sitting on the floor, kicked him brutally in the spine, making him a life-long cripple.

This did not sober the drunken father, for he has since come home drunk, picked up his child, and slung him across the room.

What sorrow and misery drunkenness causes! Boys and girls, avoid strong drink—Australian "Young Soldier."

CHALLENGED BREWERY MANAGER

Away in Wales a Salvation recently came in contact with a brewer, who seized the opportunity of commenting upon the Anti-Drink Number of "The War Cry" a while ago. It seems that some one had sent the gentleman in question a copy of that issue, and he now desired to know whether, that it was an insult to him and the trade.

The Men Who Are Wanted

By THE GENERAL

[These extracts from the writings of The General are very much to the point at the present important epoch in the history of Canada. If the principles to which The Army's Leader so earnestly calls attention were everywhere acted upon, we should indeed have a country after the pattern of the Kingdom of Heaven.]

In every department of the world's life or labour, the great want is men. In religion, in politics, in science, in commerce, in philanthropy, in government, all other necessities are unimportant by comparison with this one.

Christ's Great Law

Given men of a certain type, and the religious life of the world will thrive and throb with the love and will of God, and overcome all opposition. Given men of the right stamp, and politics will become another word for benevolence. Provided true men are available, science will take her place as the handmaid of revelation.

If only men of power and principle are at hand, commerce will prosper as she has never yet prospered, rooted in the great law which Christ laid down for her: "Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

If the men are found to guide it, philanthropy will become a golden ladder of opportunity by which all in misfortune and misery may climb, not only to sufficiency and happiness here, but to purity and plenty for ever.

And, given the men of heart, head, and hand for the task, the government they way, God will wake up men to meet these own like-minded men of right, who follow Him. In the course of time, with the help of God, His Name, deliver the world from the curse of sin and the to which it leads.

Perfect law, liberal law, patriotic law, law of God, law of man, may prevail. A crowd of legislation can never be devoted to a nation, can never permanently control it, and may influence it. Out of the world come two or three, who are really one commanding power, strong and wise, to lead the world, though wise and strong, not to stifle it. In him will be found the strength and ambition of the nation, and the people's hearts will turn to him; they will take the command as their virtual leader, as it has been so, as it will be, as it will always be.

But if men, then certainly a man, Human nature has, after all, more influence over human nature than anything else. Abstract laws are of little moment to us until we see them in actual operation.

The revelation of Jesus in the flesh was a recognition of this principle. The purpose of His life and death was to manifest God in the flesh, that He might attract man to God. He took human nature that human nature might see the best of which it was capable. He became a man that men might know to what heights of power a man might rise. He became a man that men might know to what lengths and breadths of love and wisdom a man might attain. He became a man that men might know to what depths of love and service a man might reach.

God Is Able

If the men we need will find the pattern Man ready to their hand. Be the demands of the coming years

St. Augustine to study the Scriptures, and engrossed his time in them. "In Christ we have all things," says he, "but with many things scarcity and things that excite a certain sense of emotion, but in none of them do I find these words, 'Come unto me, all ye that labour and are burdened, and I will give you rest.' Salvation Army Assurance.

LOYALTY TO PRINCIPLE

A Salvation Army Example

An example of the boldness of Salvationists to the principle of the Army, even when it means sacrifice, may be mentioned. The following story (says the British "War Cry") is one of interest:

The Treasurer of a certain Corps who is on military service, is also a member of the regimental band, which, in the course of its various engagements, has to play the music at a military station, its members to discipline, its members to attend with the rest of the band, it was not long before the thought of the sorrow he would experience if his wife and children were to witness such a place. As he often decided to speak to his commanding officer, but did not dare to anticipate such opposition to his withdrawal, and in any case there would be the loss of the extra pay.

As it turned out, the commanding officer was a Salvation Army man, and readily accepted his request to be excused, and so pressed his resignation.

WORDS OF WISDOM

We mortals see but in a glass, but when the mirror is darkened by the master-passion of hate, we see not even that.

When I dig a man out of trouble, the hole that he leaves behind him is the grave where I bury my own trouble.

Much of the trouble in this world is caused by the man with the beam in his eye, trying to point out the faults in his brother's eye.—"Bander-

The Army's Huts and Hostels in the Old Country and in France have proved veritable harbours of refuge for our boys overseas.

THE JUBILEE OF CONFEDERATION

CANADA IN 1867—CANADA IN 1917

electric lighting were unknown in 1868, but now run into a value of many millions annually.

TRANSPORTATION

The magnificent water ways of Canada provided the earliest means of communication. In 1868 about $20,000,000 had been expended on their improvement by canals, and the expenditure on canals exceeds $106,000,000.

The achievement of Canada in railway building from 81 to 1917, and an annual deposit of $212,500,000. In 1868 about $1,700,000 were on deposit in all Government savings institutions; to-day the amount is over $54,000,000.

EDUCATION

Compared with the period of Confederation the number of schools in Canada has increased from about 10,000 to over 26,000, the number of teachers from some 11,000 to over 39,000, the number of pupils from 664,600 to 1,327,050, and the expenditure on education from about $2,000,000 to approximately $56,000,000.

LABOUR ORGANIZATIONS

In 1867 there were 42 isolated trades unions. In 1917 there were in Canada 1,000 trade unions, 47 Trades and Labour Councils, and two nation-wide confederations of labour bodies.

NON-MATERIAL PROGRESS

The above is a record of material gains. But the life of Canada has broadened equally along other lines.

A literature distinctly Canadian has grown up, notwithstanding peculiar difficulties.

A vigorous school of Canadian literature exists. But perhaps the most striking spiritual achievement of Canada is the evolution of a Canadian national consciousness as a great self-governing community within the bonds of the British Empire; at the same time that a series of relationships unique in history as an example of international amity and good neighbourhood have been worked out with the adjacent Republic of the United States.

CANADA AND THE WAR

Canada has raised 411,000 men and sent 311,000 overseas.

For many months Canada has spent a million a day on the war, and has added $60,000,000 in private benefactions to war causes.

Canada has greatly stimulated her agriculture to provide foodstuffs for the Allies, and she has revolutionized her industry to supply munitions of war. Canada has made a net contribution of $50,000,000 worth of munitions to date.

Thirty million dollars has already been contributed to the Patriotic Fund, and many millions more given to Red Cross and various funds.

THE FUTURE

The necessity for restoring the desolation caused by the war must throw unlooked-for opportunities upon the newer countries of the world, and especially upon Canada.

The agriculture of Canada is still in its initial stages. It is estimated that less than one-fourth of the soil available for agriculture has to date been occupied.

There are 500,000,000 to 600,000,000 acres under forest in Canada, half of which carries timber of commercial size. The mineral potentialities of Canada are enormous.

May this fiftieth anniversary of our nation's birth lead us to deep and honest thinking as to the great duties of citizenship and the high standards of national life demanded from the young inheritors of so vast and wonderful a country. It may be realized from top to bottom of the country that "Righteousness exalteth a nation," and that the best and truest prosperity comes to those who seek first the Kingdom of God.

Birth of the Dominion and even currency. In both Upper and Lower Canada political life was bitter and personal, and the three Maritime Provinces were somewhat alarmed at the strength of the Canadas.

In spite of these, and many other obstacles, the belief had formed and developed in the minds of the more advanced people of Canada, that it would be much better if all the Provinces were united, and so they began to talk about it in the different Parliaments and try to bring it into effect.

In the year 1864, a number of representatives of the different Provinces met at Quebec to discuss the question of union. It was a memorable gathering, and the thirty-five delegates who attended are some of the most prominent men in Canada. On December 4, 1864, a delegation arrived in England to arrange details with the British Government, and to agree to certain changes in the resolutions passed. A Royal Proclamation was issued, and by the Imperial Parliament, on March 29, 1867, a law was made whereby the Provinces were united, and so they began to talk about it in the different Parliaments and try to bring it into effect.

By God's blessing, Canada has advanced rapidly. The good effects of Confederation were soon manifested, and not long out of the statistics quoted above, the Dominion had reached a position which is one of great prosperity, but which is even richer in its promise for the future.

SAVATION SUNSHINE DISPELS SOCIAL SHADOWS

WESTERN SOCIAL SECRETY

Goes Far and Sees Much of Interest and Helpfulness.

Major Sims (the Men's Social Secretary for Canada West), who has just returned from Pittsburgh, U.S.A., where he attended the National Conference of Charities and Correction, informs us that he obtained considerable information which will be of great value to him in his work.

In addition to attending the Conference, he visited the different Men's Social Institutions at Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and Buffalo, and speaks highly of the manner he was received by our comrades "across the line," making particular reference to the reception given by Colonel Evans and Brigadier Waters. He obtained "Leaves out of their books" as far as Social Work is concerned, which will be of undoubted value to him.

The Major stopped off at Toronto and enjoyed meeting many old comrades Officers. He visited Brigadier Green and chatted with him and to Miss Green assurances of the love and prayers of their many comrades in Canada West.

The Men's Social Secretary was impressed with the Toronto Industrial Department, and stated that it reflects great credit on those who are responsible for its oversight and general management.

A TRANSITION

This is how a Toronto newspaper writer described what happened to a homeless man.

"At three o'clock this morning a policeman from Robert Street in the shadows of the valley of penury, but when the magistrate turned the homeless man over to The Salvation Army, he looked up from the valley and caught a glimpse of the sunshine on the hills."

The Salvation Soldiers' Armoury

This page section is the special "property" of our Soldiers and Readers. We particularly urge that all newly-enlisted comrades should carefully study the instruction provided, and also that anyone in doubt or difficulty should take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the "Question Box." — Ed.

VILL-LOYALTY

LOYALTY supposes the acceptance and approval by the Salvation Soldier of the doctrines, principles, methods, and government of The Army as explained and described in the published Orders and Regulations of the same.

(a) He sees the necessity, for it is the overwhelming spiritual desolation prevalent throughout the world.

(b) He believes in the Scripturalness and wisdom of The Army's doctrines and government.

(c) He accepts the authority of The Army, and is prepared at all costs and consequences to carry out its decisions.

(d) He believes in the Divine origin of The Army, regarding it as a specially adapted and Divinely originated force for saving men from sin and misery here and hereafter, and for building up the Kingdom of God.

If he looks upon The Army merely

Questioned by Query

"THE WAR CRY'S" WEEKLY INTERVIEW

ADJUTANT YOUNG SPEAKS OF THE ARMY'S POLICE COURT WORK IN TORONTO

It was recently stated in a paper that, owing to prohibition, the number of drunks in the Women's Court had shrunk to the irreducible minimum.

Is this information correct? We sought out Adjutant Young, of the Army's Police Court Office in Toronto, and asked her if she did not find her work much lessened now.

"Not by any means," was the reply, "for it is true that there is a remarkable decrease in cases of drunkenness, I am sorry to say that the number of women charged with other offences seems to be on the increase."

"You visit the Police Court every morning as usual then, Adjutant?"

"Yes."

"And what is your course of procedure?"

"Well, first of all, I go down to the cell and interview the prisoners with the object of finding out if there are any special need of The Army's help."

"And who are they?"

"Generally young girls—first offenders—just commencing on the downward way."

"You are trouble about the habitual offenders, eh?"

"Frankly, I don't, but it is not because I have no sympathy with them or would refuse to help them. As The Army's representative I feel that I am there to help any one and every one, but you can't help people they won't let you, can you? As a general rule, help others refuse The Army's advice and professed aid. So I turn to those who are glad of a friend in time of need."

"Could you mention one or two typical cases?"

Adjutant Young

policeman had seen her very late at night on the streets behaving in a way that aroused his suspicions. So he arrested her on the nominal charge of vagrancy. I'd conjectured that she was not really bad, but was in a very dangerous position, and likely to go down rapidly if not helped."

"This is where the value of The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"I spoke for this girl, and she was handed over to The Army's care.

"They certainly do. Every man treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

treats me with the greatest respect and courtesy, and I am told that the living people, who, without exception, are the best in the world, have been known to drop their cloaks down to clear the path of any who pass."

"The Army's work is seen. We can prevent a young girl from taking the wrong path into a life of evil, and that is better than pulling them out after they are once in."

"They certainly do. Every man

ELSEWHERE IN THIS ISSUE

"The Men Who Are Wanted," by The General.
"Jubilee of Confederation."
"With Our Soldiers and Sailors 'Home and Empire,'" by Mrs. Booth.
"The Army's Police Court Work in Toronto."
"Path-Healing," by The Army's Founder.

Gazette

PROMOTIONS—
1. To be Commandant:—
Adjutant James Mere (Stratford, Ont.).
Adjutant William H. Squarebriggs (Windsor, Ont.).
2. To be Adjutant:—
Ensign Wm. Spearing (North Sydney).
Ensign Louis Smith (Stratford).
Ensign Fred Martin (London Sub.).
3. To be Ensign:—
Captain A. Hillier (Fenelon Falls).
Captain D. Snowden (St. Thomas).
Captain R. Condie (Charlottetown).
Captain M. D. Forsyth (Hamilton, B.C.).
Captain Fred Major (St. Stephen).
Captain Peter Forbes (Sussex).
WILLIAM J. RICHARDS, Commissioner.

WAR CRY

Printed for The Salvation Army in Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda, and Alaska, by The Salvation Army Printer House, 15 Albert Street, Toronto

Editorial Notes

Confederation Day

THE Proclamation issued respecting the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Confederation of the Provinces of Canada called for the observance of "Sunday, the first day of July, as a day of solemn and patriotic recreation by our people for the benefit and welfare which they have been vouchsafed by Providence to us as a Dominion."

Great cause for gratitude to God will be apparent to even the most careless mind which takes a survey of the position and the prospects of our country. Dominion. Rich in resources to a degree which removes temptation to envy. Canada is free to make what she will of what she possesses. Untrammeled by any outside force, her future is in her own hands. Nothing can damage Canada which does not originate in her own heart or wickedness within her own bosom.

God has graciously blessed with wisdom those who have been entrusted by the people of Canada with the direction of their affairs, and while nobody will assert perfectly that he has curbed evil, and encouraged righteousness, and placed Canada high among the countries in which it is good to live.

Another Anniversary

IT will be regarded as a happy coincidence by Salvationists that another anniversary falls due for celebration at this time, that of the founding of The Salvation Army.

In July, 1865, William Booth began in the East End of London the work which has developed into the International Organization of to-day. Little could any one have foreseen that the humble efforts of the Army's Founder, of a host of like-hearted workers who gathered round him, were to influence the future of the great Dominion which came into being two years later, with the greatest energy and laying the foundations of the Redemeer, all the glory. The Army is now that, according to the testimony of statesmen and public authorities of all descriptions, it has been able to contribute in no small measure to the welfare of Canada and its people.

We are sure we truly represent all Salvationists when we say that it is their earnest desire to share in the work of God to serve their fellowmen, and to make a heaven of that portion of the earth upon which God has placed them.

COMMR. & MRS. SOWTON

WARMLY WELCOMED TO BRANDON—MET AT DENTON
WARTIME BOYS' BAND—MAYOR CATER PAY A TRIBUTE TO THE ARMY'S WORK

which he lives, and of his opportunities; views all from a better angle and is silent in the presence of God and realization of the duties and responsibilities which are inseparable from the high privileges conferred upon dwellers in this favoured portion of the earth.

5. Wrong Brings Ruin

1. IF Canada is to be prosperous with an enduring prosperity, Canada must be God fearing, and live in accordance with His Word. Righteousness exalteth a nation." History is full of examples of nations who have risen to pre-eminence, but who, forgetting God, have fallen from their high position. It has not needed any special act of the Almighty to bring down a nation which has lost its sense of righteousness; it is one of the principles fixed by God in the very nature of His created universe, so far as it has been revealed to man, that wrongdoing persisted in itself brings about the ruin of the wrong-doer, and it applies alike to individuals and to nations.

National character and national policies, at any rate in free countries like our own, are but the reflection of the characters and policies of the majority of the individuals which make up the nation.

Individual Responsibility

CANADA cannot be a God-loving country unless its individual citizens are truly His servants. Responsibility, not only for one's own soul and one's own welfare, but for the future of one's country rests upon every man. "No man liveth to himself." The weak and humblest man, woman, or child who is capable of responsible action every day adds not only to his or her own record of right or wrong, but increases or takes away from the nation's capacity for full development. Is it attainment of the position God intends it should reach only?

We come once again, therefore, to the question which the Salvationists is so fond of putting because he sees in its right answer by individuals the foundation of everything that is good, and of all that is happy. "Are you right with God?" Salvation from all in for every sinner is a base which is broad enough to cover a tower of state which will rise to Heaven and never be destroyed.

Another Anniversary

IT will be regarded as a happy coincidence by Salvationists that another anniversary falls due for celebration at this time, that of the founding of The Salvation Army. In July, 1865, William Booth began in the East End of London the work which has developed into the International Organization of to-day. Little could any one have foreseen that the humble efforts of the Army's Founder, of a host of like-hearted workers who gathered round him, were to influence the future of the great Dominion which came into being two years later, with the greatest energy and laying the foundations of the Redemeer, all the glory. The Army is now that, according to the testimony of statesmen and public authorities of all descriptions, it has been able to contribute in no small measure to the welfare of Canada and its people.

Commissioner Richards was a model Chaiman. Briefly he told us about some Scout and Guard Troop he had seen in the course of his Eastern campaign. In a Scout Troop of forty there was one unconverted girl, and the other Scouts and Guards had been so thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the Christian soldiery that there was no necessity for obtrusive leadership, and the spontaneously gained

July 7, 1917

THE WAR CRY

Paragraphettes

PERSONAL AND NEWSY

INTERNATIONAL

COMMISSIONER SOWTON had a warm welcome on his visit to Brandon. He was accompanied by Mrs. Sowton and Brigadier Taylor, and the party was met at the depot by the Band, which is composed almost entirely of boys, the older members having gone overseas, and marched to the Citadel. At Mayor Carter presided. From one of the local papers we take the following:

"Thank God for a man who is not afraid to take his religion with him and do the best he can," said the Commissioner, in the course of his address on the activities of The Salvation Army in the great war. "It was a bold simple summary of the work for the Master he had done by the great army he had led."

"Magistrate Fraser moved a of thanks, and Sergeant Major Galey (Montreal) said that their

Army pins had been given to the

Despatches From The Firing Line

IN FLOURISHING CONDITION

All Sections of Edmonton I. Corps Are Showing Signs of Vigorous Life—New Songster Brigade Is Commissioned.

Notwithstanding the fact that so many Soldiers and Bandsmen have gone overseas the Edmonton I. Corps never was in a more flourishing condition, spiritually or financially. The Young People's Work is in a special manner. Under the capable leadership of Young People's Sergeant-Major McBain, it is growing by leaps and bounds. The only trouble is that the four walls of the Junior Hall are so close together and the accommodation problem is very real.

A special feature is the Monday night meeting held weekly in the Senior Hall, and conducted exclusively by the Young People and their Workers. It is a great inspiration to hear so many Young People testify to a definite change of heart.

There is also a Boys' Band of twelve players, busily learning instruments, led by Leader-Master of Bandsman Leo McAlister. There is a rumour (well-authenticated) growing around that in the near future Life-Saving Scout and Guard Troops are to be organized.

The Corps' Band is worthy of special mention. Since the commencement of the war, it has lost twenty transfers and enlistments, over twenty transfers and enlistments, and the present whereabouts of Bandmaster W. G. Coles and several Bandsmen has not new life into it, and to-day the Edmonton Citadel Band is second to none in the West. At the present time it consists of eighteen members. The Band is responsible for a number of engagements, including a recent appearance at the opening of the new auditorium of the Victoria Hall.

St. John's Citadel, the Commissioning of the Corps' Leader and the distribution of The Salvation Army awards to the children was the occasion of the visit of the Chancellor and Mrs. Tunmer. An interesting and profitable service was held, resulting in the conversion of two sailor lads, one of whom boldly came forward when the invitation was given.

STAFF-CAPT. & MRS. TUNMER

Visit Bell Island and St. John's II. and Conduct an Interesting Series of Meetings.

A drive of nine miles by road to Portugal Cove, a long wait for the boat to start for its three-mile journey across the Bay, and another half hour in a big, bright room at the Officers' Quarters at Bell Island, the Officers' Quarters at Bell Island. A nice little meeting was held on Saturday evening. Sunday, in spite of the unpleasant weather, was a good day to our souls, and in the afternoon a special service was held. Ensign March, conducted the fervent service of an Army friend named Mr. Thomas; the Ensign having had the great privilege of pointing him to Jesus. Captain Pelly, the day school Teacher, rendered excellent service by his singing of the old songs, and two sons sought and found the Salvation.

Mondays were spent in visiting the Converts and Soldiers; Mrs. Tunmer attending the Home League; the Staff-Captain addressing the day school children, and concluding with an interesting lecture on the Social Work at night.

St. John's Citadel, the Commissioning of the Corps' Leader and the distribution of The Salvation Army awards to the children was the occasion of the visit of the Chancellor and Mrs. Tunmer. An interesting and profitable service was held, resulting in the conversion of two sailor lads, one of whom boldly came forward when the invitation was given.

NEW CORPS OPENED

Mrs. Major Coombs Leads the First Services at Melfort, Sask.

The Salvation Army "opened fire" at Melfort on the first Sunday evening, June 9th. Mrs. Major Coombs led the attack, assisted by the Officers, Captain A. Sowton and Lieutenant Stripland. Open-air meetings conducted in The Army style were novelties indeed to the townsfolk, and they gathered in large numbers and listened with intense interest to the inspiring messages and soul-stirring singing of the little band of Salvationists.

The Hall secured for the evening services was well filled on the Sunday, and the prospects are bright for good work being accomplished. Mrs. Major Coombs stayed for the Monday night meeting, at which one hundred converts were made.

Great interest has been aroused among the Young People, who continue to flock to the meetings. Quite a number of them have been to the Pentecost Form.

The people at Melfort have been exceedingly kind to the Officers and their families. The Army's Advent in their midst in a most practical manner.

BOYS' BAND STARTED

Home League Is Also Live Concern

At New Aberdeen on Sunday, June 17th, we had with us our Divisional Commander, Major Crichton. One soul sought Sanctification. We have recently welcomed Brother and Sister Horton from Springfield.

A Boys' Band has been started here, and the great help in opening the Home League is a live concern here, under the direction of Secretary Mrs. Hopewell and Treasurer M. G. Gallas. The Young People's Work is going ahead under the direction of Sister Mrs. Rea. Captain C. Howe is leading us on.

SURPRISED THE CAPTAIN

Officers from Headquarters Lead Sunday Campaign at Rhodes Avenue Corps.

On Sunday, June 7th, Captain Bosher (the Commanding Officer) was prepared as usual to carry on the services in the Rhodes Avenue Corps. A nice little meeting was held on Saturday evening. Sunday, in spite of the unpleasant weather, was a good day to our souls, and in the afternoon a special service was held. Ensign March, conducted the fervent service of an Army friend named Mr. Thomas; the Ensign having had the great privilege of pointing him to Jesus. Captain Pelly, the day school Teacher, rendered excellent service by his singing of the old songs, and two sons sought and found the Salvation.

Adjutant Henderson (in charge) was ably supported by the visiting Officers, Captain and Mrs. Tunmer, Captain S. Mapp, and the well-formed Quartette was much enjoyed. Staff-Captain Easton read the Holiness lesson.

The Salvation meeting resulted in one soul volunteering for Christ. Captain Bond spoke, Candidate Phillips soloed, and Ensign Hodges gave an address on "The Way of Sin Is Death."

SEVEN BOYS

Got Saved, Learned to Play Instruments, and Are Now in Band.

The Spirit of God has been working in our meetings at Victoria, B.C., and quite a number of souls have been saved. Nine weeks ago seven bright young boys came out to the Pentecost Form and got soundly converted. Since then all of them have taken up instruments to learn to play for God and The Army. After taking lessons for five weeks the boys turned out to the open-air Life-Saving Scout meeting and sang the Life-Saving Scout.

St. John's Citadel, the Commissioning of the Corps' Leader and the distribution of The Salvation Army awards to the children was the occasion of the visit of the Chancellor and Mrs. Tunmer. An interesting and profitable service was held, resulting in the conversion of two sailor lads, one of whom boldly came forward when the invitation was given.

NEW CORPS OPENED

Mrs. Major Coombs Leads the First Services at Melfort, Sask.

The Salvation Army "opened fire" at Melfort on the first Sunday evening, June 9th. Mrs. Major Coombs led the attack, assisted by the Officers, Captain A. Sowton and Lieutenant Stripland. Open-air meetings conducted in The Army style were novelties indeed to the townsfolk, and they gathered in large numbers and listened with intense interest to the inspiring messages and soul-stirring singing of the little band of Salvationists.

The Hall secured for the evening services was well filled on the Sunday, and the prospects are bright for good work being accomplished. Mrs. Major Coombs stayed for the Monday night meeting, at which one hundred converts were made.

Great interest has been aroused among the Young People, who continue to flock to the meetings. Quite a number of them have been to the Pentecost Form.

The people at Melfort have been exceedingly kind to the Officers and their families. The Army's Advent in their midst in a most practical manner.

BOYS' BAND STARTED

Home League Is Also Live Concern

At New Aberdeen on Sunday, June 17th, we had with us our Divisional Commander, Major Crichton. One soul sought Sanctification. We have recently welcomed Brother and Sister Horton from Springfield.

A Boys' Band has been started here, and the great help in opening the Home League is a live concern here, under the direction of Secretary Mrs. Hopewell and Treasurer M. G. Gallas. The Young People's Work is going ahead under the direction of Sister Mrs. Rea. Captain C. Howe is leading us on.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

BRIGADIER MOREHEN

Leads Inspiring Meetings at Montreal IV. Junior Officer Is Started at Maisonneuve.

On Sunday, June 7th, Captain Bosher (the Commanding Officer) was prepared as usual to carry on the services in the Rhodes Avenue Corps. A nice little meeting was held on Saturday evening. Sunday, in spite of the unpleasant weather, was a good day to our souls, and in the afternoon a special service was held. Ensign March, conducted the fervent service of an Army friend named Mr. Thomas; the Ensign having had the great privilege of pointing him to Jesus. Captain Pelly, the day school Teacher, rendered excellent service by his singing of the old songs, and two sons sought and found the Salvation.

Adjutant Henderson (in charge) was ably supported by the visiting Officers, Captain and Mrs. Tunmer, Captain S. Mapp, and the well-formed Quartette was much enjoyed. Staff-Captain Easton read the Holiness lesson.

The Salvation meeting resulted in one soul volunteering for Christ. Captain Bond spoke, Candidate Phillips soloed, and Ensign Hodges gave an address on "The Way of Sin Is Death."

SEVEN BOYS

Got Saved, Learned to Play Instruments, and Are Now in Band.

The Spirit of God has been working in our meetings at Victoria, B.C., and quite a number of souls have been saved. Nine weeks ago seven bright young boys came out to the Pentecost Form and got soundly converted. Since then all of them have taken up instruments to learn to play for God and The Army. After taking lessons for five weeks the boys turned out to the open-air Life-Saving Scout meeting and sang the Life-Saving Scout.

St. John's Citadel, the Commissioning of the Corps' Leader and the distribution of The Salvation Army awards to the children was the occasion of the visit of the Chancellor and Mrs. Tunmer. An interesting and profitable service was held, resulting in the conversion of two sailor lads, one of whom boldly came forward when the invitation was given.

NEW CORPS OPENED

Mrs. Major Coombs Leads the First Services at Melfort, Sask.

The Salvation Army "opened fire" at Melfort on the first Sunday evening, June 9th. Mrs. Major Coombs led the attack, assisted by the Officers, Captain A. Sowton and Lieutenant Stripland. Open-air meetings conducted in The Army style were novelties indeed to the townsfolk, and they gathered in large numbers and listened with intense interest to the inspiring messages and soul-stirring singing of the little band of Salvationists.

The Hall secured for the evening services was well filled on the Sunday, and the prospects are bright for good work being accomplished. Mrs. Major Coombs stayed for the Monday night meeting, at which one hundred converts were made.

Great interest has been aroused among the Young People, who continue to flock to the meetings. Quite a number of them have been to the Pentecost Form.

The people at Melfort have been exceedingly kind to the Officers and their families. The Army's Advent in their midst in a most practical manner.

BOYS' BAND STARTED

Home League Is Also Live Concern

At New Aberdeen on Sunday, June 17th, we had with us our Divisional Commander, Major Crichton. One soul sought Sanctification. We have recently welcomed Brother and Sister Horton from Springfield.

A Boys' Band has been started here, and the great help in opening the Home League is a live concern here, under the direction of Secretary Mrs. Hopewell and Treasurer M. G. Gallas. The Young People's Work is going ahead under the direction of Sister Mrs. Rea. Captain C. Howe is leading us on.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

In your next report eat "The War Cry" as briefly as you can who gave the most striking testimony at Sunday's meetings, and what were the outstanding features of it.

Corps Correspondents Wanted!

(1) Will every Corps Officer please look out for some one who can keep "The War Cry" posted up concerning Corps happenings.

(2) Send to the Editor the name and address of the comrade concerned, so that he or she may be properly commissioned and

THIS WEEK'S HINT TO OUR REPORTERS

THE PRAYING LEAGUE

Prayer Topic

"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength. Pray for strength to suit every need for each of the needy."

HEART-TO-HEART TALKS

By Mrs. Blanche Johnston

For Week Beginning Sunday, July 13th. During this week is a co-operation of the life of Jesus. We have not the space to take up each day's lesson, so will try and draw attention to the lessons as a whole—a week's study.

We find the interest in our Lord and His work has reached the stage in which it is the first lesson of the week. Our Master found it of a very fleeting character, as His followers often have proved it to be since His day on earth in human form.

The people had been carried away by enthusiasm over the many wonderful works of healing and the works of Life He had spoken. Many of them had been suspicious of Him; but others, through the raising of Lazarus from the dead, had believed that He was indeed the Messiah. Partial sentiment, it does sometimes, when some outlet of expression must be made. So they had sown the palm trees before Him and led Him triumphantly into Jerusalem.

But in the midst of all the rejoicing of the multitude, the heart of the Master was sad. He saw beneath the surface that the great majority of the people had not repented of sin, and that destruction would come to the beloved city and sorrow and shame to the people, so He seized the opportunity (July 10th) to teach the people their doom if they did not repent of their sins.

He proved them also for turning the Holy Place into a "den of thieves" (Mark II:17).

Then the true conditions of their spirits began to make itself manifest. When they were told the truth about their spiritual condition, when reproved for sin, they resented the fact, and became manifest a spirit of discontent and criticism which led them later to commit the greatest crime in history.

The truth given by our Lord was very striking indeed. This marks the first: the husbandman. There is much for spiritual education in the portions of the "Soldier's Guide" set apart for this week's study.

Windsor, N.S.—On Sunday, June 10th, two comrades consecrated themselves to God's service, and one Soldier was enrolled. June 17th one sister gave herself anew to God.

Lieutenant Electra Hill

Who was injured in the explosion which wrecked the Hall at Paris, Ont., but is now out of hospital and doing nicely.

PROMOTED TO GLORY

Private Hill and Johnson, Red Deer

Captains Johnson and Knight sang "God Will Take Care of You" a hymn which deceased had made personal reference to, the last meeting he attended before going overseas. Sergeant-Major Lewis and Captain Johnson testified to the faithfulness and loyalty of Private Rogers, as a Soldier of Christ, as well as of his King and country. Mrs. White delivered a most impressive and touching appeal.

White bidding the comrades fare-

Private Hill and Corporal Vaughan well he quoted a favourite verse that was always a blessing to him: "Thou wilt keep in perfect peace Whose mind is stayed on Thee."

And said he felt that if he should return the Lord desired him to be a Salvation Army Officer. His letters were always hopeful: God kept him victorious amongst all the sin that surrounded him. Our hearts go out to the sorrowing parents and loved ones who mourn his loss.

Another comrade, Brother G. Johnson, of the same battalion, was also a great help in all the meetings while with us, and he also has proved to be a Master Roll up Yonder. Pray for dear comrades who are left, God may sustain them in this hour of trial.

Brother Vaughan, Chester

On Sunday evening, June 3rd, Ensign McLean and Captain Hayward conducted the memorial service for our late comrade, Brother Vaughan, who died in Chester, England. Brother Vaughan left for overseas service early last summer. He never reached France, however, but had been stationed in England ever since his departure.

Brother John Stitt spoke on behalf of Brother Vaughan, whose assistance in his work for the Life-Savers Scout Troop had greatly appreciated. He bore testimony to his sincere life as a railway-man, and said he was glad and proud to be able to count Brother Vaughan as one of his comrades.

Brother Bird, in speaking of the life of our comrade, said the chief points in his character which had always impressed him were his honesty and earnestness. Special singing was rendered during the meeting, and when the invitation was given one volunteer came forward to sing a solo.

We believe Brother Vaughan remained a true Salvationist during his stay in England, and, in his letters to his wife right up to the last, he gave a bright and clear testimony. We assure Sister Mrs. Vaughan and her family a few little ones of our prayers, and we trust God will sustain and comfort her in this sad hour. —C. M. B.

Private Rogers, Forest

A Memorial service was conducted for our comrade by Staff-Captain and Mrs. White. He passed away at Aldershot, England, on May 11th.

NEWFOUNDLAND NOTES

Among the Fisher Folk—Paying Over Self-Denial Visits to Books at Mercury Book

Mrs. Lieutenant-Colonel Tilley sent a very enjoyable letter, telling the fisher-folks commands of Mrs. de Grave. Spangled crests, gilded and much blessing and inspiration resulted.

St. John's I.—An enjoyable letter was sent by Mrs. John I. Tilley, Staff-Captain, to Mrs. Tilley on June 17th. In it, she writes, "After the Staff-Captain led us in the closing moments, after the six hours when six had knelt at the Mercury Book, an experienced wave after wave of blessing. Sound, practical decisions were made in the morning, the evening, and at night. The summer period has our soul upon the people. Adjutant and Mrs. Bruce are in charge of this Corps, and everybody is gratified at the great Staff-Captain's victory. The best of all is you."

St. John's II.—George Adby and his co-workers are doing a swell here. The feeling of religious one and the splendid Self-Denial accomplish- ment is still with them, and they are going to try to return to the Sunday Captain's service. Mrs. St. John's from Divisional Headquarters conducted the service, and four men were saved.

CITY PASTOR

Gives Lecture on the British Army.

The announcement that Dr. Dale (Assistant Pastor of Cedar Church, Toronto) would lecture at "The Service of the Salvation Army" on "The British Army" was received with great interest by the church on a recent Wednesday evening. The presence of a number of Army Officers, including Mrs. Commissioner May, Brigadier Adby, and Captain Sam May seemed to be greatly appreciated by both the pastor and the congregation.

The lecturer treated his subject in a military fashion, showing the he had studied closely the Britain and War of the Army. There was no doubt as to his great admiration for our Founder, and he drew many striking lessons from the life of Mrs. Ford's faithful work as a Songster, told of the joy she had gained by her work for the Kingdom in the recent Self-Denial Campaign, and stated that she had been a member of the Brigade since its inception, seven years ago.

The simplicity of The Army creed, the enthusiasm of its members in seeking souls, and the spirit given at its prayer meetings, were also touched upon.

Brigadier Adby and Captain May sat together during the evening and the Captain said, "Later on the Brigadier was asked to speak and a note of thanks was given to me by a member of his audience." He referred to his audience in the early days of The Army, when recruitment was ripe, and his friends were with great interest.

WELESLEYVILLE (N.Y.)

On May 25th Lieutenant-Colonel Tilley and Adjutant Tilley were visiting the town, and gave a very interesting interview. Since Adjutant Tilley and Mrs. Woolfrey have been married several souls have been converted. During the past week we have seen a soldier in a distant part of the world, and he told a soldier in view, and we held a roll-call for the future. —G. B.

July 7, 1917

THE WAR CRY

WHAT'S DOING ROUND THE WORLD

TWO GREAT COLONIALS

THROUGHOUT the British Empire the name of General Botha is well known. In the Staff-Captain's letter, Mrs. Tilley writes, "After the Staff-Captain led us in the closing moments, after the six hours when six had knelt at the Mercury Book, an experienced wave after wave of blessing. Sound, practical decisions were made in the morning, the evening, and at night. The summer period has our soul upon the people. Adjutant and Mrs. Bruce are in charge of this Corps, and everybody is gratified at the great Staff-Captain's victory. The best of all is you."

When the South African Republics raised their standards against Britain, it was only twenty years ago, but the General and Mrs. Bruce are in charge of this Corps, and everybody is gratified at the great Staff-Captain's victory. The best of all is you."

What might remain of the 100,000 aeroplanes when peace is restored could be utilized for commercial purposes, he said. A French Government committee was making plans for such use. Mr. Hawker said that the day of trans-Atlantic air lines was at hand. "We are now manufacturing air liners capable of crossing the Atlantic, and have both the pilots and the instruments needed for piloting them," he said.

BIG AVIATION PLANS

PLANNING that 25,000 aviators could do more to end the war than 100,000, addressed to the Staff-Captain, Mrs. Tilley, in the Staff-Captain's letter, which is all the more remarkable considering that he won his spurs in war against us."

When the South African Republics raised their standards against Britain, it was only twenty years ago, but the General and Mrs. Bruce are in charge of this Corps, and everybody is gratified at the great Staff-Captain's victory. The best of all is you."

"During the last five or six weeks we have," he said, "General Botha's 'expressed desire' to see the nations of America, which has to be moved by road, rail, and sea from the factories in England to the guns in France, and man-handled probably not less than half a dozen million."

50,000 NEW GARDENS

THE President of the British Board of Agriculture recently stated that 172,000 new gardens had been put out on the land, and as railway companies and collectors had both given land, something like half a million more gardens are now being cultivated for crops. Their number has increased fourfold within the last few months.

Even more than really good gardens are being produced. Over 1,000 acres of additional land are under cultivation in Middlesex, Wandsworth before the war had 40 allotments and now has 2,000, while Southall has 2,000 to a population of 30,000.

COLD-WATER BUFFET

AMONG many original features of the National Economy Exhibition recently held in London, England, was the provision of glasses of clean, cold water, free for the asking.

At the Economic Cafe little tables and chairs were arranged on the Continental plan, and visitors were able to sit down and make an economic meal from provisions they had brought with them from home.

BATHS FOR THE BIRDS

PRIZE competitions have been held and special rewards offered to encourage the building of artistic bird houses which would attract the birds to our homes in our back yards and vacant lots, rather than entirely in the seclusion of the woodlands.

But an Omaha, Neb., bird lover has stamped his individuality and artistic ability in the construction of concrete bird boxes which beat all the rest.

The first is an order of Knight hood, styled "Order of the British Empire," will follow the present date of other knightly orders and consists of five classes or grades and will be awarded both to women and men for services rendered to the Empire at home and abroad. The first two classes will, in the case of men, be the Knights of the Order, and in the case of women the Damehood, and in the case of women the privilege of prefixing the title "Dame" to their names.

The second order, which will be closely restricted as to numbers, will be styled "Order of the Companions of Honour." It will consist of one class only, to which women will be eligible equally with men. It will carry no title.

STAGGERING WAR FIGURES

A GRAPHIC impression of some of the extraordinary aspects of the present war was recently given by General Sir Archibald Hawley, president of the American Legion of the British Imperial Legion.

In the arms of all the belligerents, he said, there are now twenty-four million men, which excludes the great civilian armies behind the front, in France, Russia, and the like.

What might remain of the 100,000 aeroplanes when peace is restored could be utilized for commercial purposes, he said. A French Government committee was making plans for such use. Mr. Hawker said that the day of trans-Atlantic air lines was at hand. "We are now manufacturing air liners capable of crossing the Atlantic, and have both the pilots and the instruments needed for piloting them," he said.

GERMAN CHILD CRIMINALS

A GERMAN paper states that statistics prove that the number of criminals under the age of 18 was four times greater in 1916 than in 1914, especially in the category of theft and murder. Many children, mainly children with fathers, are serving in the army while their mothers work in munition factories.

The paper asks that all fathers be checked.

ALL MUST SACRIFICE

D. R. C. R. WILSON (General Secretary of the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church) in a recent address at Worcester, said:

"We can't beat Germany until we have beaten beer. It is deadly mockery to ask our boys to die for us until we are willing to go dry for them. The law which prohibits the sale of beer to any man in the army is a good one, but to-day armies are not fighting armies—nations are fighting nations. Why put all the sacrifice upon the soldier and the sailor? Let us all have a drink which will prohibit the sale of liquor to any man in civilian clothes.

The man who is selected to go must spill his blood for victory; let the man who is selected to stay at least spill his beer for the soldier."

PUBLIC NURSERIES

TO assist mothers who are working in munition factories the British Government is operating public nurseries.

Mothers working by day bring their babies to the nursery every morning, and the babies are fed, collared, dressed, and even to tear up their trunks in order to supply the needs of the army. Lacking this help from home it would have been impossible for the British to have made the advances they have made in the last few months. As they go toward them more through the country that has been absolutely destroyed, while the enemy falls back upon better prepared positions in the rear.

CONCERNING SAILORS

A CHAPLAIN, who has ministered in some Seamen's Mission, and knows sailors well, gives the following advice to young sailors: "All round, one is as good as another; the Swedish, the Dutch, the French, the Irish, the Scotch sailor is as good as the English; but if it is a dirty night, and there is an ugly job to be done on the topmast, you must get an Englishman to do it."

UPSIDE-DOWN WATCH

THE wrist watch, which rose so high in popularity on account of the endorsement given it by men of the army and navy, has retired to second place in the soldiers' favour. The reason for this is not that this style of watch is not good, but that it promises, but that bullets and bursting shrapnel shells which constantly threaten the exposed men are likely to strike the wrist and break glass and metal into the skin, thus aggravating the wound.

The watch which now holds first place is worn suspended from the belt by a loop of leather. The watch hangs top-down, which will prevent it from being hit in the hand, or glanced down at it as it hangs from the belt, it is just the proper position to be read. If it should happen to be shattered by a bullet the particles of glass or metal would be caught and held in the leather case, so that they would do no harm.

PATRIOTIC RAILROADS

[In a review of the last six months' events at the front General Sir Douglas Haig pays a tribute to the

Hon. W. J. Hanna
Who has been appointed Food Controller of Canada.

patriotism of the railway companies at home and in Canada, which did not hesitate to give up their rolling stock, their stations, and even to tear up their tracks in order to supply the needs of the army. Lacking this help from home it would have been impossible for the British to have made the advances they have made in the last few months. As they go toward them more through the country that has been absolutely destroyed, while the enemy falls back upon better prepared positions in the rear.

A MALTESE ROMANCE

Stirring Story of Military Life and a Soul's Salvation

CHAPTER XXX.

FROM SINKING SANDS.

W E will pass over the period of George's imprisonment. It was to him one long nightmare, with its solitary confinement, cruel beat drill, and such treatment as made sullen, savage, and bitter, and long ere he was released had determined to try a new plan of desertion, the details of which he had worked out during the long hours he had lain inactive in his dark cell.

A Wild Plan

This time he would endeavour to persuade Camilla to go with him. The means of transportation would be a small boat which he would steal from its moorings and secrete in the cave where he had fought the octopus. Then he would sail gaily across the Mediterranean to the nearest North African port, with the Turks to follow. As to what would do then he was not quite clear; he trusted to that capricious thing they call luck.

Osman had told him that the Turkish Empire was run by an unprincipled set of grafters, and that the big cities had got the best of the people and all the luxuries. Well, perhaps he could beat 'em at their own game, and some day become a Pasha or something of that sort.

Thus ran George's thoughts whilst in prison. Foolish though they may seem, they would be indulged in by a desperate and bitter man.

He was worked up to the point of forsaking every principle of truth and honour which he had received. On the very day, however, that George was released from prison he saw something which partly caused him to take the conversion course. He was being rowed across the Grand Harbour in a dhow, under escort of a corporal and two men, when the Sicilian small boat passed by on its outward trip.

Camilla Once More

George was looking at the people on its decks with a mild interest. It was "Camilla" he thought, when suddenly he gave a violent start. Could he believe his eyes? Yes, it was too true! There at the rail stood Camilla, his sweetheart, the girl he had loved so much for, and by his side, her mother, was Paola Micalef, the carriage driver. Almost involuntarily he raised his clenched fist and shook it in their direction, and at that moment they caught sight of him. The girl gave a merry little laugh and waved her hand. "Adieu!"

On Paolo's face was a grin of triumph as he gazed on his discomfited rival. Leaning over the rail he shouted out: "Inglese peggio! Good! Good! Good! Good! Good! Then he turned to look for Camilla.

George could only gaze after the man in impotent rage, but his face ings were plainly discernible in his convulsed features.

"What's the matter, Stanton?" asked the corporal, a very kindly disposed man, and a very opposite character to the Fader. "You're not in your element." "Why, I'm yet 'umble," broke in one of the gunners. "That there Maltese cab driver has run away with his donah, and George feels like giving in 'in a black eye.' Yet got my sympathy," he added, turning to George. "I know well it feels like to be turned out by a gang of scoundrels, but there's a good fish in the sea as was ever caught; them's my sentiments. Come across ter the not been charged with the crime was because Paolo and his associates could not accuse him without revealing their nefarious night occupation. But the shadow of the crime hung over him all the same, and at night he lay in his cabin, his countenance in some unexpressed way expressing now that Paolo had fled the country. A cold shiver came over him at the thought. Things seemed to be going from bad to worse.

Still, it was no good getting into the house over which he had no which might never be. So he reflected, so for the rest of the journey he chatted away gaily enough to his com-

"He raised his fist and shook it in their direction" canteen ter night and drabber ter sorrier in a 'ell gallon o' beer, and you'll soon forget you was ever in 'u'."

"Oh, shut up, Hokey!" said George, growing visibly annoyed. "Orlyright, I will," said Hokey. "You don't deserve no sympathy, you don't," he added in an offended tone.

After which the whole company relapsed into silence for a while.

It was "Camilla" who first broke the ice. "Did you hear that your friend Joe Brown was captured?" he asked.

"Joe captured!" exclaimed George in surprise; "thank God for that news. I thought he was dead."

"Yes, he said the corporal," George's return to duty was very uneventful. He merely got his kit out of store, went to the room assigned to his sub-division, and started in at the military routine again as if nothing had happened. He was brought back from Egypt about a week after he got weighed off, and, in fact, they pressed him with many invitations to come to the canteen and drink, and also relate the story of his doings.

There was one, however, who came to George with a different invitation. It was Tom Charlton, the faithful Salvationist-soldier, who was always about his Master's business and ever on the lookout for a chance to do good. He came round specially to see George when he was in the hospital in barracks.

"Well, I'm goin' to see you back again, Stanton," he said. "Hope you panions, and seemed to have quite recovered his good spirits.

He learned that his company had been moved from Camp Tigre to Fort St. Elmo, during the six months about. Also, the Corporal Smith was now promoted to sergeant and had a bigger swagger than ever. He dreaded meeting Smith again.

At last they arrived at the Fort. It was "Camilla" who first spied the ice. "Did you hear that your friend Joe Brown was captured?" he asked.

"Joe captured!" exclaimed George in surprise; "thank God for that news. I thought he was dead."

"Yes, he said the corporal," George's return to duty was very uneventful. He merely got his kit out of store, went to the room assigned to his sub-division, and started in at the military routine again as if nothing had happened. He was brought back from Egypt about a week after he got weighed off, and, in fact, they pressed him with many invitations to come to the canteen and drink, and also relate the story of his doings.

There was one, however, who came to George with a different invitation. It was Tom Charlton, the faithful Salvationist-soldier, who was always about his Master's business and ever on the lookout for a chance to do good. He came round specially to see George when he was in the hospital in barracks.

"Well, I'm goin' to see you back again, Stanton," he said. "Hope you will attract a large crowd. The Hall, which had been hired for the occasion, was crammed full. Amid cheers the Captain announced that on the following Sunday Salvation Army Company Meetings for the children would be commenced, and that on Thursday a public meeting would be held for both young and old.

Forty-two children attended the Company Meeting on the first Sunday, nineteen of whom were in the Primary Department. Prospects are good for the establishment of a new Corps in this district.

AN EXPANDING WORK

St. Thomas Now Has a Thriving Outpost.

Wonderful open-air and indoor meetings were held Sunday after-won't get into any more such scrapes. Say now, would you come over to the Salvation Army Home with me to-night? We have got a little social evening on, and we'd be glad to have you with us."

A sudden impulse urged George to accept this invitation. He had almost made up his mind to go to the canteen and get hopefully drunk to try and drown his sorrows as Hokey had suggested. He waited a moment before the two feelings trying to dominate him.

"All right, Tommy, I'll go with you," he said, and the matter was settled.

The Army Home

That night staid out in George's memory as the most important one in his life. He went to the Salvation Army Home, was cordially welcomed by the Second Adjutant and his cheery little wife, and he slept thoroughly at home. The Naval and Military Leaguers were, many of them, those he had seen at St. Paul's Bay, and he liked their clean, wholesome talk and their evident sincere religious profession. After giving a good deal different to the prison fare he had had for six months previous, he was further delighted by a musical programme given by several of the Leaguers.

The Adjutant then suggested a testimony meeting, and the other of these sailors and soldiers got up and told of the victories they had won in ship and barrack room, and how Christ enabled them to live pure lives in the midst of profanity, drunkenness, and impurity, such as many good folks never imagined exists.

All the time a revolution was taking place in George's soul. He can hardly explain it himself; but all the hardness and bitterness seemed to melt, and his religious schemes of reform, upon which he had based his wicked and absurd, he saw himself a poor sinner in desperate need of a Saviour, and he prayed from the depths of his heart, "Lord, have mercy on me a sinner!"

George's Testimony

They were singing a chorus at the time. It was this:

"A never-failing Friend Is Christ to me so rich and free; His favour never end: a never-failing Friend."

"Oh, I will," said Hokey. "You don't deserve no sympathy, you don't," he added in an offended tone.

At last they arrived at the Fort. It was "Camilla" who first spied the ice.

"Did you hear that your friend Joe Brown was captured?" he asked.

"Joe captured!" exclaimed George in surprise; "thank God for that news. I thought he was dead."

"Yes, he said the corporal," George's return to duty was very uneventful. He merely got his kit out of store, went to the room assigned to his sub-division, and started in at the military routine again as if nothing had happened. He was brought back from Egypt about a week after he got weighed off, and, in fact, they pressed him with many invitations to come to the canteen and drink, and also relate the story of his doings.

There was one, however, who came to George with a different invitation. It was Tom Charlton, the faithful Salvationist-soldier, who was always about his Master's business and ever on the lookout for a chance to do good. He came round specially to see George when he was in the hospital in barracks.

"Well, I'm goin' to see you back again, Stanton," he said. "Hope you will attract a large crowd. The Hall, which had been hired for the occasion, was crammed full. Amid cheers the Captain announced that on the following Sunday Salvation Army Company Meetings for the children would be commenced, and that on Thursday a public meeting would be held for both young and old.

Forty-two children attended the Company Meeting on the first Sunday, nineteen of whom were in the Primary Department. Prospects are good for the establishment of a new Corps in this district.

AN EXPANDING WORK

St. Thomas Now Has a Thriving Outpost.

Wonderful open-air and indoor meetings were held Sunday after-

THIS IS WHAT YOU WANT

When it is Showery
It will keep you Dry

When it is Dusty
It will save your clothes

A Light-Weight Raincoat

JUST THE THING FOR OUR WOMENFOLK

Price - $5.50

PRICES OF HATS AND BONNETS

Bonnets, quality 4.....	$6.75
Clip Hats.....	$3.25
Bonnets, quality 6.....	$9.00

ADDRESS ORDERS TO Trade Secretary, Salvation Army Headquarters, James and Albert Sts., Toronto

READY FOR OPPORTUNITY

(Continued from Page 9)
Adjutant Walker, of the Subscribers' Department, Canada West, has for the past few weeks been collecting in country districts among farmers. A short time ago he visited a certain community, but found that the majority of the people had gone to a picnic. He followed them, and had success in securing some donations, when one of the men suggested that he should conduct a meeting.

Some of the Officers and Corps affected by the Field changes which will take place this week are as follows: Adjutant and Mrs. Owens will take charge of the Toronto Field. Ensigns: Mrs. G. S. Gaunt, St. Marie; Captain and Mrs. Curry, Lippincott Court; Ensign and Mrs. Pitcher, New Glasgow; Adjutant and Mrs. Layman, Montreal.

Ensigns: Mrs. E. and Mrs. Woodcock, Owen Sound; Ensign McLean and Captain Hayward, Ottawa II; Captain Bobbitt and Lieutenant Coul, Chester; Captain and Mrs. Boshier, Sydenham; Captain and Mrs. Atkinson, Yorkville; Captain Gilligan and Lieutenant H. H. Lowndes; Captain Alderman, Lindsay.

Adjutant and Mrs. Jordan are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant Bercroft is appointed temporarily to special financial work. Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler have been sent with the Young People, and six came forward to seek Jesus. The meeting at night was a time of blessing. One comrade took his stand as a Soldier and over sixteen sought forward seeking Salvation and Sanctification. Over $62 was given as a thank-offering.

WHITNEY PIER

Major Crichton, accompanied by Staff-Captain Byers, paid a visit on Monday, June 19th. At 4:15 the pier was crowded with people, mostly with the Young People, and six came forward to seek Jesus. The meeting at night was a time of blessing. One comrade took his stand as a Soldier and over sixteen sought forward seeking Salvation and Sanctification. Over $62 was given as a thank-offering.

UXTONBRIDGE

On Saturday and Sunday, June 23rd-24th, we had a visit from Major Moore. The Major was stationed here twenty-five years ago, and many old memories were revived. The power of God was felt in the meetings, and many came forward for salvation and consecration. A good crowd was present.

PARAGRAPHERETTES

(Continued from Page 9)
tant Dunster are slowly improving in health, and are glad to state. Mrs. Captain Pollock has been entering Toronto Western Hospital to undergo an operation.

Some of the Officers and Corps affected by the Field changes which will take place this week are as follows: Adjutant and Mrs. Owens will take charge of the Toronto Field. Ensigns: Mrs. G. S. Gaunt, St. Marie; Captain and Mrs. Curry, Lippincott Court; Ensign and Mrs. Pitcher, New Glasgow; Adjutant and Mrs. Layman, Montreal.

Ensigns: Mrs. E. and Mrs. Woodcock, Owen Sound; Ensign McLean and Captain Hayward, Ottawa II; Captain Bobbitt and Lieutenant Coul, Chester; Captain and Mrs. Boshier, Sydenham; Captain and Mrs. Atkinson, Yorkville; Captain Gilligan and Lieutenant H. H. Lowndes; Captain Alderman, Lindsay.

Adjutant and Mrs. Jordan are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant Bercroft is appointed temporarily to special financial work. Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler have been sent with the Young People, and six came forward to seek Jesus. The meeting at night was a time of blessing. One comrade took his stand as a Soldier and over sixteen sought forward seeking Salvation and Sanctification. Over $62 was given as a thank-offering.

Adjutant Margaret Lewis, Helper at the London Divisional Headquarters, is being transferred to the Queen's East Ontario Divisional Office, changing over with Ensign Richards.

The Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

Adjutant and Mrs. Keeler are going on a much-needed furlough before taking another appointment; also Adjutant and Mrs. Trickey.

STAFF-CAPTAIN PEACOCK

Visits 2 Corps Holding Special Meetings for the Children.

"I am greatly encouraged with the progress the Officers and Corps I have visited are taking advantage of every opportunity to extend the Young People's Work."

Thus spoke Staff-Captain Peacock (Young People's Secretary) on return from his recent tour. No less than twenty-four Corps were visited, and the Staff-Captain at each place he was given the most cordial welcome, and his efforts were deeply appreciated by both Officers and Soldiers.

Particularly does this refer to the Kootenay Corps, owing to the fact that the Corps has not been isolated since it received a visit from a Special Commissioner.

One of the special features of the Young People's Secretary's campaign was the afternoon meetings for the children conducted by him. These were a splendid success where the officers were present, and the meetings were a great success.

The dedication of the Lethbridge

Life-Saving Scouts and Guards was conducted by Staff-Captain and Mrs. Keeler, the Officers in charge.

The meetings held by the Staff-Captain with the Young People's Locals were most advantageous and a source of practical help and blessing to those who attended.

The Young People's Secretary visited the members of the First Corps, Codette, seven in number, at Maple Creek, Sask. This is very creditable, indeed, when it is remembered that the Corps has only been opened a little over twelve months.

Captain F. Merritt, the Officer in charge, is to be congratulated.

The Young People's Secretary visited the members of the First Corps, Codette, seven in number, at Maple Creek, Sask. This is very creditable, indeed, when it is remembered that the Corps has only been opened a little over twelve months.

Captain F. Merritt, the Officer in charge, is to be congratulated.

The Young People's Secretary visited the members of the First Corps, Codette, seven in number, at Maple Creek, Sask. This is very creditable, indeed, when it is remembered that the Corps has only been opened a little over twelve months.

Captain F. Merritt, the Officer in charge, is to be congratulated.

WE ARE Looking For You

We will search for missing persons in any part of the globe, before and after the present war, and will do so at a reasonable fee. Address: H. G. A. V. E. James and Albert Streets, Toronto, under the heading "Enquiry" on envelope.

One dollar will be paid for information leading to the recovery of any lost or missing person, where details are given to help defray expenses. In case of recovery of Photograph, $5 extra.

Officers, Sailors, and Soldiers are requested to send their names and addresses to the Missing Column, and to notify Lieut.-Colonel Margrave of any information concerning any case, always stating name and number of same.

RALPH NEFFIN, 11272. Age 40, height 5 ft. 9 in., weight about 160 lbs, dark eyes; painted and decorated by trade. Widowed mother very anxious for news.

CALEB WHALEN ROBERTS, 11070. Canadian, about 31, weight 170 lbs., height 5 ft. 10 in., dark hair, blue eyes. Missing since April 1916. A Newfoundland, aged 24, height 5 ft. 5 in., weight about 160 lbs, dark hair, blue eyes. Missing since April 1916. Both men were severely wounded, man on left side of neck. Wife anxious for news.

WATLESS EDWIN CONRAD, 11274. Canadian, about 31, weight 170 lbs., height 5 ft. 10 in., dark hair, blue eyes. Missing since April 1916. A Newfoundland, aged 24, height 5 ft. 5 in., weight about 160 lbs, dark hair, blue eyes. Missing since April 1916. Mother very anxious for news.

GEORGE GRIBBS, 11278. Age 40, height 5 ft. 9 in.; formerly of Merrit, B.C., now in Canada. Last heard of at Victoria, B.C. Brother, a barrister, Danville, Ont., desires information.

JOHN ERIC BACKHOUSE, 11279. Age 39, medium height, dark hair, eyes and teeth. Last heard of on 1st of June, 1916. A labourer at St. John's, Newfoundland. Father, a priest, unknown address. Bishop's Falls, Newfoundland.

MER. SARAH ANDERSON, 11280. Has not been heard of for over a year. Husband was a joiner by trade. Brother has been badly wounded in France. Friends in Canada anxious for news.

FRID HOEKY, 11272. Came to Welland, Ont., in 1915. Worked in a foundry, then in a nut and bolt factory. April 32 married. Last heard from 12 months ago. Wife in Greenwich, Scotland, anxious for news.

Replies to the following should be sent to Commissioner Souton, 221 Rupert Street, Winnipeg; marked "Enquiry" on the envelope.

DATID SCOTTAR. Last heard of 1909, en Hudson Bay survey. Medium build, golden hair, blue eyes; a sign painter and decorator by trade. Relatives anxious.

MICHAEL M. MCNEIL. M.A. COLM D. April 21, 1916, height 5 ft. 10 in., light complexion, dark hair, grey eyes. Last heard of in Yale, B.C., in March, 1916. Brother in Mexico, dark complexion, anxious to hear of his whereabouts. (See photo.)

ANDREW PETERSON, Jr. HJALMAR ANDREAS PETERSON. Norwegian, 27 years, tall, dark and small. Last heard of in Ketchikan, Alaska, in 1916. Father, bus worked on shore. Mother exudes.

LODGES FOR WOMEN

The Salvation Army maintains Lodges as follows:-

"Scotia" Lodge, 163 Barrington Street, Halifax, N.S.

"Cathcart" Lodge, 24 Cathcart Street, Montreal, Quebec.

"Rosedale" Lodge, 131 Sherbourne Street, Toronto, Ontario.

"Balmoral" Lodge, 239 Balmoral Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

"Welcome" Lodge, 2215 Lorne Avenue, Regina, Saskatchewan.

"Mount Pleasant" Lodge, 75 Seventh Avenue East, Vancouver, British Columbia.

Young women visiting or locating in the above-mentioned cities will find comfortable accommodation at the addresses given. For particulars, apply to the Matron.

A Canadian Soldier Named Critchley

May hear of something to his advantage by communicating with Major Calder, Woods, and Pethick, solicitors, 6 Lancaster Place, Strand, London, W.C. 2.

HINTS on the CIRCULATION
by Dr. Helpemup

Confederation Improves Circulation—Key to Success—"The War Cry" Through Line—All Corps' Sections Can Help "The Cry"—"The Cry" Can Help All Corps' Sections—Programme for a "War Cry" Meeting—Have You Ever Tried It?

UNITY is strength. Without question Confederation has improved the circulation of Canada. Co-operation will further any cause, whether it is the making of a Dominion or the growing of cabbages.

Co-operation is the key to success in making "The War Cry" circulation.

Reporters and writers, photographers and artists, editors and etchers, printers and publishers, packers and transmitters, Corps' Officers, Publication Sergeants, and Boomers form "The War Cry" through line. A breakdown in co-operation anywhere along the track holds up the whole machine, that is, stops the circulation.

It is essential that cordial co-operation and unity be necessary at the distribution end of the line. Every branch of a Corps can help "The War Cry," and "The War Cry" can, in turn, help every section.

Have you ever had a "War Cry" meeting at your Corps? That is, a meeting in which everything said or done is taken from the current issue of our paper, and admission to which is obtained by buying a copy. Try it once, and do it thoroughly, and it will become a regular institution.

You will be astonished to find how much can be got in which will not only be of interest, but of real value as instruction and information.

Taking last week's number as the basis of such a meeting, one could have had a programme such as the following:-

1. Song: "What's the News?" (page 16).

SONGS OF SALVATION

JESUS, I LOVE THY NAME

Jesus, I love Thy charming name,
'Tis music to my ear;
Pain would I sound it out so loud
That earth and Heaven should bear.

Yes, Thou art precious to my soul,
My Transport and my Trust;
Jewels to Thee are gaudy toys,
And gold is sordid dust.

They grace still dwells within my heart,
And sheds its fragrance there;
The noblest balm of all its wounds,
The cordial of its care.

ROOM FOR JESUS

Have you any room for Jesus—
Who bore your load of sin?
As He knocks and asks admission,
Sinner, will you let Him in?

Chorus
Room, for Jesus, King of Glory!
Room for pleasure, room for business,
But for Christ the Crucified—
Not a place that He can enter,
In the heart for which He died!

Room and time now give to Jesus,
Soon will pass God's day of grace;
Soon your heart be cold and silent,
And your Saviour's pleading cease.

2. Prayer: For suggestions for prayer, see "Faith-Healing," by The Army Founder (page 11).

3. Song: "O Lord, Thy Heavenly Grace Impart" (page 16).

4. Reading: Extracts from Mrs. Booth's article on "Salvation from All Sin for Every Day" (page 2),

5. Testimonies from comrades on military service and description of what The Army is doing for the troops (pages 4 and 8).

6. Recitation: "The Penitent Form" (page 2).

7. "Does The Army do any Good in the Prisons?" What an Industrial Farm Superintendent says about it and an interesting story (page 3).

8. Collection Story: "She Had the Cash" (page 2).

9. Band news item (page 6), followed by Band selection.

10. A Ten-minutes' Journey, taking in Australia, Burma, Russia, China, Switzerland, Belgium, and Holland (page 7).

11. Solo: The new song by Canadian composer (page 12).

12. Summary of latest news of Territorial doings (pages 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12).

13. Bible Reading, chosen from "Praying League" Topics (page 12).

14. Salvation Appeal, based on "How to Be Saved" (page 2).

Many variations of such a programme will suggest themselves to any one who will take "The Cry" and set about making up a list of its contents.

NOTHING BUT JESUS' BLOOD

What can wash away my sin?
Nothing but the Blood of Jesus!
What can keep me always clean?
Nothing but the Blood of Jesus!

Chorus

Here will I seek the flow,
That washes white as snow!
No other fount I know,
Nothing but the Blood of Jesus!

What can sweep all doubts away?
Help me live by faith each day?

What can make me brave and strong?
Keep my conscience void of wrong?

What can foil each hellish dart,
And from idols keep my heart?

GLORY TO THE LAMB!

Tunes—Glory, Jesus saves me, 143;
Always cheerful, 140.

Precious Saviour, Thou dost save
Thine, and only Thine, I me; fine,
Oh, the cleansing Blood has reached
Glory, glory to the Lamb! [me;

Chorus

Glory, glory, Jesus saves me!
Long my yearning heart was striving
To obtain this precious rest;
But when all my struggles ended,
Simply trusting, I was blest.

COMING EVENTS

CANADA EAST

Lieut.-Colonel Otway—Campbellton, Sat.-Sun., July 7-8; Lewisport, Mon., 9.

Staff-Captain and Mrs. Turner—Long Pond, Sat.-Sun., July 7-8; Adjutant and Mrs. Kendall—Midland, June 30-July 16.

"THE YOUNG SOLDIER"

SPECIAL SUMMER AND CONFEDERATION NUMBER

This year marks the 59th Anniversary of Confederation and our Annual Special Number of "The Young Soldier" will feature this event in article and picture. The coloured covers will be a combination of the Canadian Flag and photographs showing old-time ploughing and modern methods. A picture of a farmer and his family asking God's blessing on their noon-day meal forms a charming frontispiece. Some of the principal literary contents are as follows:—

"My Father," by Major Catherine Booth.

"Before the Camera of Truth," an excellent dialogue for Life-Saving Scouts.

"The Trek Cart," by Captain R. Spooner.

"The Power of Prayer," by Brigadier Bettrige.

"Confederation," an article of great historical interest to our Young People.

This number will be dated July 21st. Don't miss getting one!

FOR OUR BOYS IN FRANCE

We would again remind our readers that Adjutant Penfold (our Chaplain in the front-line trenches in France) is in urgent need of comforts for the Canadian soldiers amongst whom he works. Woolen socks and mitts are particularly needed.

Send all articles to Mrs. Commissioner Richards, Territorial Headquarters, Toronto, and they will be forwarded to the front.

The Grace Hospital
Winnipeg

NEW ANNEX ENABLES GOOD WORK TO BE DONE FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

Dr. Sudgen, Medical Superintendent of the Grace Hospital, Winnipeg, paid a visit to the Editorial Offices last week. With evident keen pleasure the Doctor told us that the Institution was doing excellent and extensive work. The Annex, recently opened, was proving most useful, as in it they had been able to provide temporary accommodation for children, whose mothers entered the Hospital, and particularly so in the cases of soldiers' families. It is the only institution in the city where children can be provided for in emergencies, of this or other character.

He cited one instance where Major Payne had taken in and cared for three children, whose father had been killed in battle and whose mother had died.

Warden Graham, of the Stony Mountain Penitentiary, recently paid a visit to Territorial Headquarters.